GEORGE AND MARTHA
FISHER McMURRAY

George McMurray was born in Scotland on November 3, 1858, son of Thomas and Katherine Shields McMurray. He married Martha Fisher on July 4, 1866. She was born at Johnston, Renfrewshire, Scotland, April 23, 1850, daughter of David and Martha McKay Fisher. They were the parents of eight children. George died February 29, 1924, and Martha on October 8, 1915.

In 1858, George and his mother came to America and settled first in Pennsylvania. The father, Thomas McMurray, planned to follow them later, but was never again heard from.

As a boy of 12, George kept the trap door in the coal mines in Pennsylvania. When the Civil War broke out he enlisted at Pittsburgh in the Pennsylvania Reserve Volunteer Infantry in 1861. During the battle of Bull Run he was shot twice in the leg and limped throughout the rest of his life.

p. 527

He was also shot by a bullet that barely missed his heart.

As he lay in the hospital recuperating he could hear the fighting at the Battle of Gettysburg. He was nursed back to health in the home of Maggie Stevenson, who later came to reside with the family in Heber.

It was in 1864 that George and his mother came by ox team to Utah. After they arrived, his mother married Robert McKnight Sr.

After his marriage to Martha Fisher, George spent his life as a miner, working mainly in the Park City mines.

Martha left her native Scotland at the age of 10 to come to America with her parents. They traveled to Salt Lake City in Oscar Stoddart's handcart company. She and her brother David, who was two years younger, pulled a handcart the entire distance from Florence, Nebraska, to Salt Lake City. In 1865 the family moved to Heber and took up homestead land on Daniels Creek.

After the marriage of George and Martha he decided that there were too many people in Heber with "Mc" on their names, so he dropped it and the family has been known as Murray since.

Martha was known as a good homemaker. She was extremely neat and clean. Someone once said: "I never stepped on her doorstep. It was always so white and clean I always stepped over it." However, her home was always open to those who needed help. She took her son's motherless child to rear, she reared three of her daughter's children and also another grandson. Some of her grandchildren lived with her while attending school in Heber.

She was buried in Heber City Cemetery.

was born at Grass Creek, Summit County, Utah, on Nov. 13, 1883, a son of John and Maggie Muir McPhie. To them were born two sons, Lindsay and Leslie McPhie.

Teenie grew up in Center Creek. Her father's farm was a mile above the town and the children walked to the little one-room school house. There was a pot-bellied stove in the center of the room and everyone tried to get close to it on cold winter days. Sometimes they had to wade in deep snow, other times they could walk right over the fences on the snow crust. When spring came it was very muddy.

Some of the school teachers of the day were Sarah Muir, George Wooton, Brigham Clegg, Charley Wahlquist, Mary Brim, A. M. Hansen, Freda Jaspersen and Robert W. Downa.

Teenie took an active part in the community activities, plays and school entertainments.

She also helped her father with the farm work, riding the horse to pull the hay into the barn, herding the cows and helping milk them.

Charles McPhie met Teenie at a dance in Pryde's Hall in Center and after an eight-month courtship they were married by Charles's father. It was later solemnized in the Salt Lake Temple. Charles was a very happy man and was loved by everyone. He was sheriff of Wasatch County eight years and was hoistman and watchman at the New Park Mine for many years. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in August of 1955. He died Nov. 2, 1955 at Heber City.

ELMER CLARENCE AND
NANCY JANE JONES
MAHONEY

Elmer Clarence Mahoney was born Sept. 13, 1866 in Coalville, Summit County, a son of Jeremiah H. and Ada Louisa Phippen Mahoney. He married Nancy Jane Jones on Jan. 9, 1888. Seven children born to them were Clarence Ray; Louis Vier; J. Rolla. Forest Erwin, Elmer Earnest, Elisha Rodney and Thelma. Elmer died July 8, 1934 in Center. Nancy Jane, who was born March 6, 1868 to Elisha and Sarah Ann Cummings Jones, died in Provo Nov. 18, 1944.

Elmer's father died in 1868 and his mother later married William Henry Walker. In about 1870 they moved to Heber. They lived here for some time and then moved up on the Provo River. Elmer and Jerry, his brother worked for different people in Kamas and at Moulton Ranch (Keetley). He hauled lumber out of the canyons east of Kamas with a four-horse team. While working at Moulton Ranch he met Nancy Jane Jones, who also worked there, and they were married. Elmer built a one-room house near his mother's place and they lived there until May, 1890, when they moved to the Ontario Drain Tunnel. While working here they saved their money and bought a farm at Center Creek, where they moved to in 1897.

Elmer and Nancy loved to dance, and this was their main social activity. They attended a dance in Center Ward just a month before Elmer died, walking to and from the dance hall, about a mile and a half.

He served as first counselor in the bishopric of the Center Ward for twenty-five years, first under Bishop William H. Harvey and then under Bishop Bennett Lindsay. He held this position at the time of his death.

People who knew Elmer Mahoney always spoke highly of him. He was a man who kept his word whenever he made a bargain. One of his outstanding qualities was his promptness at meetings. He was late once — and turned around and went home.

Nancy Jane was born in a little two-room log house on the corner of what is now known as Third East and Center Street.

She made the habit of attending church regularly with her father who was crippled and needed her assistance. She also completed six grades of school in a rock school house where the First Ward Church now stands. In those days that was considered a good education, and so one summer she was allowed to teach a group of children near the Heber Grist Mill.

Her father died when she was just thirteen years old, leaving her mother with a large family to take care of, and so it was necessary for her to go out to find work to help her mother. She cooked and did housework at the William Moulton Ranch, The Henry Cluff Ranch, The Kimball Ranch, and for President William Cluff in Coalville.

She was married to Elmer by Judge Thomas H. Watson, in the same little house she was born in. They were later married in the Salt Lake Temple. They lived at the Walker Ranch on the Provo River until 1890, when they moved to the Ontario Drain Tunnel. This was her home until 1897, when they moved to the farm they had bought and paid for, situated about three and one half miles east of Heber, between Center Creek and Lake Creek. This was her home until 1934, when her husband died, and she moved to Heber.

During her life on the farm she was very active in the LDS Church. She was President of the YLMIA from 1905 until 1912. In 1914 she was named second counselor in the Relief Society and held this position until 1917 when she was made President of the Relief Society, a position which she held until 1934. She was also a Sunday School Teacher and Librarian and Treasurer in the MIA. All of these positions were held in the Center Ward.

After the death of her husband, she lived in Heber. During this time until her death she spent most of her time visiting with her children, and in working in the Salt Lake Temple.

HEBER BIOGRAPHIES

ruary 14, 1958, at the age of 93. He was a High Priest in the Church.

Lottie Malinda Hicken Mahoney (second wife) was born at Heber, Utah, on September 20, 1879, daughter of Addison and Elizabeth Moulton Hicken. As a young girl she learned dressmaking and practiced it for some time. She is most active in the Church. She served as secretary-treasurer of Heber Third Ward Relief Society and is still very active at 79, never missing a meeting, Sacrament, Sunday School, Mutual or Relief Society. An active Relief Society teacher over 40 years, she lives alone and does all her own work and entertains her family on occasion.

First wife:

Sarah Elizabeth Giles Mahoney, daughter of Mary Ann Moulton and Frederick Giles, was born December 21, 1864, and died at 37 on December 21, 1901. Wasatch County was her home all her life. As a young woman she taught school at Heber City. She later lived at the Moulton Ranch, owned by her uncle, William Moulton. It was here she met J. W. Mahoney and they were later married.

After her marriage she lived at the Walker Ranch on Provo River about four years, then moved to Elkhorn, now known as Keetley, where she lived the next 10 years. She then returned to Heber City, where she lived until her death.

She was a true Latter-day Saint, working when her health would permit in all the organizations of the Church. For some time, when she lived at Keetley, she was at the head of the Sunday School, which was held at the schoolhouse, a short distance from our home.

She was also an accomplished seamstress, and did beautiful work in crocheting, knitting and painting.

Orlonzo MALTBY

ELIZA STREET MALTBY came to Midway a widow with 10 children, six sons and four daughters. Her husband had been killed in a mining accident in Wyoming. She was born the daughter of Thomas and Mary Bates Street, May 21, 1855, at Staffordshire, England. She married Orlonzo Maltly. She bought the former home of Sam O'Neil. She left after a few years to make a home in Park City. Her daughter Carrie, married William Provost. They lived in Midway, honorable, capable citizens and raised a splendid family here.

JAMES CRAWFORD
MURDOCH
SARAH ELIZABETH GILES
MURDOCH

James Crawford Murdoch, son of John M. and Isabella Crawford Murdoch, was born February 11, 1869, in Heber City, Utah. His boyhood days were spent very much like those of other pioneer children—herding cows, gathering wood, going fishing, and swimming in the swimming holes near his home. As he grew older he played on the Heber City baseball team and also played a bass horn in the city band.

James was called to serve as a missionary in Wisconsin, and after completing his mission he returned and married Sarah E. Giles on November 27, 1901, in the Salt Lake Temple. To them were born eight children: Mrs. Ervin (Althora) Sackett, Mrs. Mont (Laraine) Giles; Merrol Murdoch, who married Mae Johnson; Mrs. William (Ruby) Jaspersen; James Ruelof Murdoch, who married Rhea Stewart; Bard Murdoch, who married Lois Simpson; Grant Murdoch; and Verd Murdoch, who married Margaret Barton.

After his marriage, James served on a second mission, to Arizona, and it was while he was on this mission that his first child was born. After returning from the mission field he was called to serve as a member of the Wasatch Stake High Council, which position he held 25 years. His occupation was that of a pioneer freighter in the Wasatch and Duchesne County areas. He also was a farmer and stock raiser and worked in the Park City mines. Early in his married life he was stricken with arthritis, from which he suffered greatly and eventually became an invalid.

At the time of death, August 14, 1959, James, or "Uncle Jim," as he was called, was Heber's oldest native resident. He was 90 years of age.

Sarah Elizabeth Giles Murdoch was born in Heber City, Utah, on December 4, 1878, to George M. and Mary Elizabeth Mayoh Giles. She spent her childhood days on the ~~Mum~~ Mum Davis ranch, at what was then called Elkhorn, where her father moved his family when she was eight years of age. Later they returned to Heber and she attended the old Sleepy Hollow School.

Sarah's father hauled freight to Park City for the A. C. Hatch Company. In order to help supplement the family income, she would follow him, driving another team.

She always was an ardent Church worker until her health and age prevented her from serving. She taught in the Primary a number of years, was first counselor in the Stake MIA, was a Relief Society visiting teacher, and also served as assistant secretary in the ward Relief Society.

Besides taking care of her home and family, she was for a number of years a midwife, working with Dr. W. R. Wherritt and Dr. T. A. Dannenberg.

JOHN M. MURDOCK.

John M. Murdock, the quiet, reserved, unassuming patriarch that we find him at the present time, has taken an important part in subduing the wilderness of this valley.

It was he who cradled the great sheep industry of this county in its infancy and not only was his influence felt here but throughout the state. But his labors and influence were not confined to this one industry by any means. He has been a successful farmer and has contributed liberally to the building up and support of every public enterprise, of any note, that has been started in Heber City.

He was born December 28, 1821, at Grasswater, Anchilmeek, Ayrshire, Scotland, his parents being James and Mary (Murray) Murdock, and he was the fifth child in a family of eight. In early life he was a shepherd boy and watched his flock knitting in hand, as they fed upon the blooming heather on the hills and moors of his native land.

This scene—the blooming heather—in the breeze upon the hills, to his mind, forms the most beautiful picture he has ever seen.

In his early manhood he spent 7 years in the coal mines. It was during this time that he heard and embraced the gospel as revealed by Joseph Smith and taught by his followers, and it was here he secured the call to come to Zion.

It came about in this way: Some immigrants to California had started across the plains with a band of sheep but the ravages of the wolves had reduced the flock to about fifty head, which were sold to President Brigham Young. He had a similar experience with the wolves and sent word to Franklin D. Richards, president of the British mission, to send him two Scotch shepherd boys with their dogs and John M. Murdock was chosen to take the mission.

He quit his work, sold what property he had, purchased two shepherd dogs and started for Utah January 1, 1852, accompanied by his wife and their two little children. As they neared the mouth of the Mississippi river, their vessel struck upon a sand bar. It was nearly two weeks before they were rescued and during that time they and all the other passengers, suffered terribly from hunger and their little boy died on the river soon after leaving the vessel and the girl contracted an illness from which she never recovered. She died at St. Louis April 24, 1852.

They were seventeen weeks on the plains and arrived in Salt Lake city September 3d. We desire to mention two instances of the trip:

One is the birth of their daughter Mary, who was born at what is now Kansas City, that being the outfitting point for that season. The other was when he was sent back one day's travel to bring on a cow that had broken away from the train and went back to where her calf had died. He found the animal and started on but lost the trail and that night he camped with some Indians, securing the cow in a good corral. In the morning while a short distance away saddling his mule, the cow disappeared and he could find no trace of her. The Indians gave him a biscuit and a cup of coffee and this is all he had to eat during the three days he was away from the train. Incidentally for him the captain of the company, A. O. Smoot, was taken sick and as he was the only guide in the train they had to lay over, otherwise our subject could not have overtaken the company. Upon reaching camp he was appointed to wait upon Captain Smoot, which he did, walking by the side of his carriage and attending to his every want. When the Black Hills were reached Mr. Murdock took sick with mountain fever and Captain Smoot affectionately returned the kindness he had received by carefully nursing him until his recovery.

Upon reaching Salt Lake Captain Smoot introduced him as the Scotch shepherd with his dogs to President Young who received him kindly but told him the sheep were all gone. He, however, gave Mr. Murdock some good advice and, no doubt, helped him secure employment. He did very well during the eight years he lived in Salt Lake and had some property and a little money when he came to Heber in 1860.

He supervised the building of the first school house built here which was constructed of logs and stood in the old fort, near the present residence of John Witt. This building served for schools, meetings, dances and other public gatherings for about five years.

He was the organizer of the Co-op sheep herd which he kept for many years and was always able to pay the owners a good dividend. Besides this he took the sheep when they were in a poor and scabby condition, but in a short time had them in healthy and thriving condition. He was the first to use sheep dip in this country, and it was he who built the first dipping vat and introduced that system of treating scab which has now driven that disease from our state.

Besides now being a patriarch, he is still president of the High Priests' quorum, an office he has held since 1862. He went all through the Johnson army troubles, being captain of fifty men under Major McArthur, also served in the Walker and Blackhawk Indian wars, and shared in the privations of those early days.

During his long residence in this city, he has had a most honorable and successful career. His dealings have been honest and upright, and he is at this time one of the most deservedly popular men in Wasatch county.

Scotland, son of Robert and Rachel Clark Neil.

He married Mary Hamilton and they had two children, Robert and Margaret Neil. Both children died in Scotland. His wife, Mary Hamilton, also died in Scotland, on May 16, 1861.

He then married Marion Robertson on December 31, 1863. She was the daughter of John and Agnes Lawson Robertson and was born April 2, 1837, at Tollcross, Lanarkshire, Scotland.

To this marriage were born seven children: Agnes, who died as a child while the parents were crossing the plains; Rachel (Mrs. Adolph Session), who died when her first child was born; Marion R. (Mrs. George R. Carlile); Martha (Mrs. Charles D. Clegg); Jane (Mrs. Alfred L. Carlile) and William, who was a mining engineer.

John Alexander was a physician and surgeon in Cook County Hospital in Chicago, Illinois.

William and Marion R. Neil joined the Church in Scotland and emigrated to Utah in 1866. They sailed on the "Harkwright," and after five weeks on the water landed in America. They, with other saints, traveled by ox team to Utah. One child, Agnes, died and another, Rachel, was born while they were making this journey.

They remained in Salt Lake City a few years. He helped to haul granite from the quarry in Little Cottonwood Canyon to build the Salt Lake Temple and often told of hauling the heavy loads of granite for 30 miles. They would drive the oxen-drawn wagon onto the 16-foot-wide walls to unload until the walls became too high to do so. Years later they attended the dedication.

They later came to Heber, where they prospered and were able to build a nice home, barn and other buildings. Their home was one of the first in the city to have a shingle roof.

Like the rest of the faithful pioneers, they worked hard and did their part in building and developing the valley.

She died August 8, 1896, at Heber, and he died June 11, 1903, at the home of a daughter, Marion Carlile, in Charleston. They are buried in Heber City Cemetery.
